

1960 EXCALIBUR

CROWN POINT HIGH SCHOOL

CROWN POINT, INDIANA

A year brings many new experiences. To the 1.341 students of Crown Point High School, the 175 days of school passed quickly. The opening day, learning class schedules, becoming active in clubs and organizations-all soon evolved into the normal routine of school life. New faces greeted the campus-new faces that soon became new friends. Sports created an air of excitement in the halls of C.P.H.S.; social events added gaiety and charm; extra-curricular activities occupied the students' free time. And suddenly, the end of the year had come. The life centering around school had stopped for another year. Much had happened to the students, events to be remembered in the years to come. As we look back on 1960, we Think What a Year Can Bring. . . .

With the expanding population of C.P.H.S. a new $900,000 addition, boasting 13 classrooms and a gymnasium with a capacity of 3,000, helped to alleviate the crowded conditions. Departments that gained space in the new addition were art, home economics, physical education, science, and music.

Equipment worth $100,000, such as a broadcasting system for the music department; modern, built-in ovens; and a trampoline, parallel bars, and other intramural equipment, was purchased to help students learn by the best possible methods. Because of the developments, new activities sprang up and gave students a chance to widen their horizons.

From the back of the new addition the side of the massive gym and the door to the rec room are visible,

IN GROWTH

New music, art, and home economics facilities help the ever-increasing population of Crown Point High School to gain a more well-rounded education.

IN LEARNING

Learning, the process of acquiring knowledge, is experienced by 1,156 students at C.P.H.S. Although the objective remains the same, the manner in which students indulge in this "sport" is greatly varied. Methods ranging from constant study to last-minute cramming carry students through assorted classes as they determine fields of interest. Also, Career Day, held in the spring, enables students to investigate three chosen careers by listening and discussing possibilities with representatives. Even parents learn as they attend evening classes, or re-enact their children's school day at P.T.A. Openhouse and view many modern facilities brought by the year.

Cathy Newlin and Martha Bollman prepare rolls using the facilities of the home economics department.

Crowded corridors

Mr. Moughler, guidance counselor for junior high students, discusses the problem of a distressed student.

Junior high students look over the variety of projects displayed at their first annual science fair.

connect many assorted classes

Richard Throw, Bill Deutsch, and Dennis Noak, all F.F.A. members, try to get a steam cleaner working.

Linda Pugh and Bonnie Baldwin, along with others, are working on religious projects in sociology class. The students spent four weeks on their projects.

New facilities, clubs fill

During the two noon hours students spend their time dancing and discussing classes in the new rec room. A selector was used to eliminate the space taken up by the juke box.

leisure hours

Members of the Modern Dance Club find much relaxation in learning and putting together new dances.

Students may borrow ping pong paddles and checkers by leaving a library card at the intramural window.

George Weiland, projectionist, threads the tape of a movie into a projector to be seen by some class.

Besides a banquet, at which John Malo (right) was voted best-dressed, the Latin Club saw "Ben Hur."

Presenting a 200-horsepower Ford motor to C.P. was L. E. Beaulieu. Present were J. Merkner and C. Holloway.

Harold Gerbracht worked hard on his amplifying equipment which he entered in the Science Fair.

Journalists, scientists strive

New horizons have recently been opened for Crown Point High School students. New modern conveniences for future homemakers can be found in the home economics rooms; and for young scientists chemistry and biology classrooms were added. To complete the art department an art room with many convenient facilities was built. Of course, the school wouldn't be complete without a fully developed music department. Classrooms, practice rooms, new instruments, and a recording room fulfilled this vision. Keeping fit is also an important phase of high school life and is accomplished through the new gymnasium.

Selling the 900 Excaliburs is quite a job for circulation staff members, as Becky Denney finds out.

Beverly Hack and Denny Costin type Inklings' stories in the back of room 108 for the Wednesday deadline.

New equipment sets high goals

Glyn Jewart demonstrates one of the pieces of equipment in the music broadcasting-recording studio.

Janet Whiting, school telephone operator, works the switchboard in the main office during school hours.

Picking up her daughter's schedule, Mrs. Wilbur Struebig visits the school during the P.T.A. Openhouse.

for students

Helping to build a Christmas Crib and arrange the Holy Family are Bill Engstrom and Leonore Mitchell.

Correct manners are one of the things learned in sophomore English. Tom Kish, Linda Sobak, Nancy Tuhy, and George Kmetz demonstrate introduction methods.

Students gain knowledge

Driver education, taught by John Hemphill, is one of the many electives at C.P.H.S. This year a brand ne Pontiac was given to the school for students' use.

Bobbie Anderson and Sandy Jones practice using the new recording equipment in the language room.

Mrs. Helen Palmer, guidance director, discusses college possibilities with senior Bonnie Baldwin.

onstant practice

Prospective Student Council officers have pep bands at their campaigns to help them gain votes. Each candidate also gave a 3-minute speech explaining his platform.

Assistant principal Warren Garner, every morning, promptly at 9:00, reads the day's announcements.

Strange laws

Finding the total amount of money collected at C.P.H.S. for the United Fund Drive are juniors Deanna Dunker, David Hofferber, Phyllis Noak, and senior Bill Wilcox.

and new odors greet scientists

The future scientists of C.P.H.S. learn much by experimenting with chemicals during a typical lab period.

In her geometry class, Barbara Spitson illustrates the method used in solving a geometric problem.

Students can learn much with the use of the many new books and pamphlets available in the library.

In the morning before 8:00 a.m. and during both noon hours, C.P.H.S. students wait in line to purchase school supplies from the bookstore run by Mr. William Naylor.

Daily routine, special projects

Judy Loftus looks over her diploma, realizing that her high school days have ended and she must look ahead.

Senior Joy Warne presents a humorous declamation with expression to her second period speech class.

unite in C.P.H.S.

Jim Francis, Bill Wilcox, and Joseph Heuer put together one of the model homes made in drawing class.

IN FUN

Fun can take place anywhere. It can be at a thrilling basketball game, at a coke-drinking and pizzamunching party, or at just about any place there are people. In the fall students laughed and marched in the homecoming parade and saw the crowning of Mr. Football and his queen; the Froshmore Hop, the prom, and events leading to graduation added flavor to spring; but memories weren't limited to these alone. All year long Friday night dances and impromtu gatherings put final touches on school works.

As the lights go on, Mr. Football, Dean Cox, and Queen, Sandy Rippy, greet their subjects.

Parties, dances

The year 1960 has been filled with many phases of fun. Kings and queens reigned, new fact were introduced, and ever-popular pizzas were consumed. With the "beatnik" movement came the increased popularity of leotards and the use of new color combinations.

Along with school events, C.P.H.S.'ers had fun at "slumber" parties, hayrides, and skating and tobogganing parties.

Going steady survived the Social Code, and its followers wore matching outfits such as bulky sweaters and matching shirts and shirtwaist dresses. Girls decorated their steadies' rings with angora, tape, and fluffy powder puffs. Fur was a rage this year, and most of the girls had winter coats with big racoon collars.

create C.P.H.S. social whirl

Prom king and queen, Gary Petyko and Rae Ann Gremel, are congratulated by president Ron Kaiser.

Juniors Andrea Downing, Connie Foster, and Carolyn Blum work hard during the annual Hi-Y—Sunshine Clothing Drive, when a record of 83 bags were filled.

Debby Ruby crowns Dixie Paarlberg, '59 Rose Queen.

With sweethearts

Each club is allowed to sponsor at least one Friday night dance; the larger organizations have two. At these dances the sponsoring club sells pepsis and cokes to add to the returns of the dance. Many C.P.H.S.'ers find enjoyment in attending concerts and the various plays put on by the classes and clubs.

Enjoying their dance are Froshmore Hop Prince and Princess Don Heffner and Janice Wille.

and queens, royalty reigns high

Finding a comfortable position, Bill Fatch drops down on the floor to sign an Excalibur at the annual Autograph Dance where the new books are distributed.

Bill Wilcox and Ron Kaiser present flowers to Lynn Struebig and Sue Davis, Hi-Y co-sweethearts.

Dennis Noak, F.F.A. president, assists Arlene Nagy with the jacket she received as F.F.A. Sweetheart.

Colorful bulky sweaters worn by John Sherwood, Dick Smith, and John Clark were considered quite "neat" in 1960.

"I now crown you 'Man of the Year'," Inklings' member Linda Pugh tells Chris Maas.

Fads lend style to campus life

Many new styles of winter coats appeared on the scene this year, especially those with fur. Barbara Everett, Amanda Haley, and Nancy Fagen display a few of these.

Seventh and eighth graders participated in their second operetta, "Johnny Appleseed." Leads were played by Kay Loftus and Jim Howell.

Myra Hamilton is crowned 1959 Holly Hop Queen by Sandy Doty, former 1958 Queen. The P.T.A. sponsored the 5th annual dance in the gym.

IN HONORS

At Crown Point High School students compete for honors in the academic, athletic, and extra-curricular areas, where individual and group awards are made. Winning these honors is not the only reason for competing; they also learn to be better citizens and competions at the Honor Day celebration most of the award winners are recognized. Representatives from the local clubs and sororities present their scholarships to the winning seniors.

Boys attending the "World Affairs Institute," in Cincinnati are Bill Wilcox, Mike Watson, and Dan Root.

IN SPORTS

With diploma-riddled ranks '59-60 athletes moved into a brand-new gym with facilities overwhelmingly complete and modern. Nevertheless C.P. agiles overcame inexperience and added their records to the admirable annals of Bulldog athletics. After a superb debut of four smashing victories, C.P. footballers hesitated at Edison in a tie, then dwindled to a 5-4-1 record for the '59 season. At the same time harriers racked up their best season in nearly a decade which a brilliant 9-0-0 record. The '59-60 version of Bulldog roundball proved this year Crown Point's bark was bigger than its bite. Not even the new gym or past records could hide the inexperience of a young team. Then track, golf, baseball, and wrestling contributed their share of victories to another athletic season for the ever improving Bulldogs of C.P.H.S.

Football's fast start precedes

Varsity gridmen entered this season under handicap—the '59 squad's reputation and little of '59's material left to work with.

The Bulldogs began the season running true to form with last year's performance, by downing the Valpo Vikings 14-6.

Portage was next to feel the bite of the still ferocious Bulldog veterans. Crown Point wo but Portage managed to hold them to 7-0. Rensselaer became the third victim for the Crown squad. Good running and blocking gave the Bulldogs an easy 27-13 victory in Bulldog Memorial Field.

The pirates of Merrillville, archrivals, proved to be unequal to the tough Bulldog line. The "dogies" walked all over them, in an easy 35-14 stomping. A stronger Edison squad held the Hub veterans to a 7-7 tie, also a home game for C.P. In Brickie Stadium, Hobart, revenge for last year's one of two defeats just wasn't enough to pull Crown Point through. They overwhelmed the Bulldogs 38-7 snapping a promising win string for the Hub team.

Bulldog spirits were revived in an easy 48-14 win over a weak Calumet Warrior squad, only to be dashed again by a strong Lowell team. The Red Devils, in an outstanding display of offensive power, tromped the Hub veterans 33-12.

Crown Point was crushed in a dismal 46-13 encounter with LaPorte on their own field.

In the next game Crown Point startled the Panthers of County Points and County Points and County Points of County Points of thers of Griffith by narrowly pulling off an upset. The Hub squad left the field with 12 of the 26 points earned in the game.

Senior fullback Dean Cox, rough and hard hitting, was elected by his teammates as Most Valuable Player in the '59-60 season.

Bulldog gridmen tallied 182 points to their opponents' 187 for the season, 128 points behind last year's squad. Coach Jim Carter's squad finished the season with a mediocre 5-4-1 record.

Jim Sowder (67) and an unknown Bulldog run to help a teammate as he charges through the line.

average finish

Reserve gridmen teamed up to win three of seven games against strong area opposition.

They opened their season by dropping the first game to Hammond Morton, 31-7. Mike Kinghorn ran the only Bulldog touchdown in a long last quarter sprint.

A 7-7 tie with Valpo not only brought out spectacular offensive and defensive action for both teams, but boosted declining Bulldog spirit. With this "shot in the arm" to pace them, Crown Point clashed with Gary Edison here in a real "knock-down drag-out" battle, which the Hub squad took 13-0.

Lowell came next on the Hub agenda. The Red Devils were out for revenge after their 1959, scoreless attempt against a strong Bulldog squad. Lowell nosed the "dogies" 13-7 after a real battle. Roosevelt, with an outstanding show of offensive power, downed the Bulldogs, 27-7 — a hard loss for the reserves to swallow.

Griffith became the next Hub victim as the ferocious reserves fought to an easy 28-13 will. In the next game Crown Point proved that Culver Military Academy was no match for vengeful Hub squad. After a "mud bowl" mashing the reserves walked off the field with an easy 26-0 victory. Coaches Edward "Robby" Robertson and Dave Schaeffer led the reserves to their 3-3-1 season record.

Reserves battle for even season

Coach John Hemphill's freshmen racked up a good season's record by only losing one of their five games. The '63'ers couldn't stop their E. C. Washington opponents, resulting in an overpowering 27-0 win for Washington.

The freshmen reversed the circumstances by stomping Lowell 27-0 in an easy win. Next on their agenda came Lew Wallace, which fell to the hands of the freshmen in a bewildering 21-6 win for Crown Point.

Then came the weak Valpo squad which couldn't stand up under the unmerciful hands of the Crown Point squad losing 54-0 in powerful offensive moves by the freshmen.

The freshmen then encountered a rough and tough Bomber squad, and looked as if they might be defeated. In the end, though, Crown Point just barely nosed Rensselaer out 14-13 in the closest game of the freshmen season.

C.P.H.S. can look to the future for a rough and hard-hitting football squad in the class of '63.

After losing nine of last year's lettermen, the Bulldog Basketballers tried to work their way through a respectable season with a young inexperienced squad, but found it harder than they expected. The Hub men, who had only two returning lettermen in senior Dick Fronek and sophomore Norm Mills, struggled through the first winless season in C.P.H.S. history. The Bulldogs opened their season with the Trojans of Chesterton, who downed them in a 64-50 contest, which started the Bulldogs on the losing trail. Coach Harry Allison's young team met the rugged, experienced Valparaiso Vikings and dropped their second game, by a 59-38 margin. The Bulldogs gave it a real try in the contest with the Horace Mann team, but the Horsemen won 49-44.

The Crown Pointers then met the rugged Calumet Warriors, who disgraced the Bulldogs 80-42 on their own floor. The Red and White then played their roughest opponents, the Blue Devils of Gary Froebel. The Devils pounded them 57-36 in the new Hub gymnasium. The Cadets of Culver got quite a scare from the Bulldogs but a late surge by the Culver team surpassed the Bulldogs 50-38 for the sixth consecutive Crown Point defeat.

In the Lake Country Christmas Tourney, the rullsquad fell to the Dyer Indians on the Merrillville hardwood, 58-50. In their first game of 1960 the Bulldogs dropped a contest to the Governors of Hammond Morton, 63-51, in the spacious Hammond Civic Center.

The Merrillville squad, long time arch rivals of the Crown Point teams, took an overtime period before they finally downed the Hub men getting revenge for last year's 55-54 loss at the hands of the Crown Point roundballers. The Edison Blazers thoroughly trounced the Bulldogs 71-35 just before the Highland Trojans walked off with a 74-51 victory. The Lowell Red Devils also beat the Crown Point Basketballers by a 77-54 score and the Eagles of East Gary trounced them 76-60 for the thirteenth consecutive Bulldog loss. The Hubmen were humiliated by the Bombers of Rensselaer in the highest scoring contest that the Bulldogs played in this year, which ended with a 90-52 tally. The Troopers of Gary Wirt pulled a 57-50 contest out of the fire after the Hammond Clark squad won 70-50, both of these games being played on the Hub floor.

The Bulldogs closed out their dismal season with

In the East Chicago Sectionals, which produced the state champs, the Washington Senators, the Hub squad failed to get into the sectional finals for the first time in three years as they dropped their final contest to the East Chicago Roosevelt squad, 71-46.

Ten of the varsity members received major letters at the annual Lions Club Basketball Banquet. Those boys receiving letters were: seniors, Dan Thomas, Dick Fronek, Bill Wilcox, and John Dietel; juniors, Mike Kinghorn, and Ray Schmidt; and sophomores, Norm Mills, John Clark, Tom Kish, and Chuck Robbins. The guest speaker at the banquet was Harry Combs, the basketball coach at the University of Illinois. Senior Dick Fronek received the outstanding athlete and scholar award which is given each year to the senior athlete with the highest class ranking.

The Reserves, coached by Ed Robertson, had a 3-17 record for the 1959-60 season but did not live up to their potential. If the four sophomores on the varsity had been able to play on the reserves, they might have easily soared to a near undefeated season. The all sophomore squad has a lot of possibility and should bolster the varsity squad next year.

gether a pair of three game win streaks to fashion a final 9-6-1 tally for the season.

Culver's Cadets matched the Hubmen for the tie ball game — a baseball rarity — in the final stint of the season when the dinner gong cut short the extra-inning marathon 11-11.

Following the 4-1 loss to Merrillville and the 4-3 scrape surrendered to Lowell's Red Devils, the Bulldogs mashed East Chicago Washington's roundball-studded baseball lineup 12-4 in Block Stadium behind senior Joe Burke's steady hurling. George Wood, 59'er, then locked horns with Griffith Panther Lynn Garrard in a thrilling mound duel and came away with a heart-stopping 2-1 victory. Hammond Clark and East Gary next felt the Bulldog bite but Lew Wallace halted the Hub win wagon with a 6-0 pasting of the weak-hitting Bulldogs.

The offensive ineffectiveness continued through a 3-2 defeat by Whiting, but then the Bulldog artillery really opened up, lambasting Dyer's Calumet Conference champs, 21-1, and battering Calumet's classy Warriors, 14-0, on successive days.

However, heads were hung low after Hobart's scrapping Brickies edged the stickmen, 7-6, for the first time in history and Hammond Morton's Governors broke up a pitching shutout duel with a four run final inning stopping Hub 4-0. Faced with the possibility of a losing season, the Buldogs responded quickly by snudging Calumet for the second time, 3-2, and then gained revenge over Lowell, 8-0, and Hobart, 9-4, before closing with the odd deadloot.

A trio of 59'ers led the hitting brigade, Right fielder Stan Nisevich was the Bulldog batting star, as he paced the Hubmen in homers and batting average and knocked many important hits. Shortstop Darrell Hoyt and catcher Tom Hargis were very close to Stan. Senior Chuck Nelson wielded the most potent underclass bat. The hurling load was carried by Wood and Burke, "Woody" tossed consistently effective ball all season and was usually beaten only by his teammates' lack of hitting or spotty fielding. Joe was not as steady, but did control his junkfilled pitching arsenal for some flashy performances. As Coach Carnahan pointed out, the most outstanding quality of the '59 ball club was the concentrated team effort. It proved successful.

Cindermen undefeated in dual

Two of the main events that make up a track meet are the pole vault and the 50-yard dash.

Highlighted by two victories over arch-rival Hobart, the 1959 Bulldog cindermen posted a successful record

The two defeats of the Brickies, one in the Bulldog winning of the Crown Point Invitational, for the first time in history, in the opening meet of the season, and the other as the Hubmen annexed the Rensselaer Relays when the Brickies finished a dismal third, had been preceded by only one other Crown Point defeat of Hobart's track team in history — a 1949 dual meet victory.

The Bulldogs went undefeated in dual meet competition while smashing five opponents and barely snudging Calumet 55-54. This victory was the greatest team triumph all year for the Hub. The cocky Warriors swept firsts in every individual event except the pole vault, in which Bulldog Phill Williams established a new school record of 11'9", but still lost the meet when Crown Point surged to wins in both relays. After a successful opener in the University of Chicago fieldhouse, the Bulldogs remained undefeated for a while with two dual meet wins, pulverizing Merrillyille's upset-minded Pirates and steamrolling Hammond Tech's undermanned Tigers. The 19th annual Little Five track meet at Hobart found the Brickies gaining some revenge when they whizzed away from the field first. The Bulldogs could salvage only a second place. A stomping of Morton's Governors, some good running but a down-the-ladder finish at the Hammond Relays, and the Renselaer and Calumet victories followed.

Then the Bulldogs barely made mention at the Valpo Relays and the Hobart Relays before closing with two walloping triumphs over Chesterton and Lowell in dual meets.

In the Hammond sectional the Bulldogs were able to place only two qualifiers — 59'ers Dick Iwan in both burdle races and Phil Williams in the pole vault — for the regional. Dick became sectional champ for the second straight year in the 180-yard hurdles when he set a new school record of 20.6 seconds to win the event.

With an unscathed dual meet mark, twin victories over Hobart, and outstanding individual achievement, the Bulldog cindermen of 1959 established a memorable record.

Demonstrating the power and strength needed, Herman Barber throws the shot put.

As in previous years, Bulldog wrestlers have proven themselves "willing and able" against the stiff competition of schools in the Calumet area. This year's product was an outstanding 11-2-1 record.

Opening wins over Merrillville, E. C. Roosevelt, Portage, and Valparaiso, offset a disappointing two point loss to rival Hammond Tech. The matmen in a triumphant comeback, swamped Hammond Morton, Gary Edison and South Bend Adams, trying only with E. C. Washington. A final two point set back, with Hammond High spurred the team to overpowering wins over Lowell and Hammond Noll.

Freshman, 95-pound John Jackson, junior, 103pound Jack Rees, senior 133-pound Larry Cope, won individual championships in their respective weight classes, and senior heavyweight Joe Dahl took second place in his weight class. All four boys won the right to appear in the regional wrestling meet in Lafayette after defeating their opponents in the sectionals. ### spectator support

On March 9, after the season was over, the Rotary Club sponsored a luncheon for the boys on the squad. Mr. Bill Fitzgerald, a member of the Rules Committee for the 1960 Olympics and also coach of the American wrestling team was the main speaker of the afternoon.

Golfers meet stiff competition

The 1959 Bulldog golfers turned in better rounds all season than in any previous Crown Point year, but still could engineer only an even 7-7-3 record.

One reason for the 50-50 campaign was the Bulldogs' first three men—59'ers Larry Costin and Jim Collins and sophomore Tom Kish—did not appear in the last two matches.

In the annual opening match against Hobart the linksmen were topped 9-6. Victories over Highland and Calumet bolstered the Hubtsers' record, until they ran into three of the top teams in the area—Dyer, Crete Monee, and Lew Wallace—and were swamped each time.

Another mashing of Highland and a surprise tying of the over-confident Dyer boys in a return engagement preceded by three consecutive wins over Noll tied the Bulldogs the second time around, but the Lowell Red Devils were buried again, when they tested the Hubmen twice. Then, Valpo administered an embarrasing defeat to the Bulldogs and Griffith tied the Hubmen.

Coach Ed Robertson's charges then concluded the season with losses to Calumet and Merrillville. Getting ready to tee off on the seventh hole at Youche is sophomore "Sparky" Sherwood.

The ultimate goal in running cross country was reached this season in a memorable 9-0-0, perfect record in dual meets!

Coach Ruby's harriers literally ran away with the highest goal a team could possibly receive, and finished as the best all-around cross country squad in Crown Point's history.

The harriers opened their season by defeating Hobart and Chesterton, which constituted the only two losses suffered the previous season. The Bulldogs overran Valpo, Calumet, Knox, E. C. Washington, Lowell, Hammond Morton, and E. C. Roosevelt in succession. They placed first out of nine teams in the Delphi Invitational.

In the Hobart Invitational, Crown Point ran a "cool" second behind Michigan City.

In the sectional meet the harriers pulled a third, just under the line, to qualify for the state cross country meet held in Indianapolis. Michigan City was first, with Kouts placing a comfortable second. Valpo ran fourth. All four qualified for the state meet, the only team from this area to do so.

Top runners for the season were junior Ray Schmidt and senior Len Burchell, always placing first or second for Crown Point. It became a "toss up" for the next six places among senior Brent Cunningham, junior John Frazee, sophomores Jack Barber, Jim Greiner, Jim Kirkpatrick, and Norm Mills.

Intramural program offers

Rick Harrison makes the winning move of a noon hour chess game to the dismay of Mary Ann Oram.

C.P.H.S.'ers initiated a new intramural system of noon time activities for the students and faculty this year. Physical education teacher Russell Keller was the director of this program. Some of the sports that students participated in were horseshoes and touch football. The students joined forces to make a team of eleven men and played on the baseball field west of the building. Teams taking top honors in the fourth and fifth period lunch hours were respectively, C.P. Sneakers and Burchell's Bums, in second place were Hein's Hustler's and the Problem Boys.

Horseshoes were popular among the boys as they competed for period championships. The first place honors went to John Hutchins in the fourth hour and George Likens in the fifth. Runners-up were Don Bowman and Bob Trulley.

Wrestling, another outstanding sport, had 71 boys competing for school champ. The winners were 95-pound, Bob Witham; 103-pound, Lee Shuffleboard, another noon activity, had its tournament in which Mike Gapen and Bob Yarnell of the fourth period and Dick Ruehl and Mike Prendergast of the fifth period were the first place winners. The second place winners in fourth period were Martin Stephenson and Roger Rhodes, in the fifth period Floyd Mowry and Guy Addison.

Two other popular intramural sports, softball and volleyball, also added variety to the noon-time activities for C.P.H.S. students. Coach Keller directed a cross country "Turkey Trot". In the fourth period the winners were first place Ray Schmidt, second place Merle Ott.

Basketball, one of the intramural activities, is enjoyed by students and faculty members alike.

The fifth period was run in the same manner with Len Burchell placing first and Jim Greiner coming in second. The race was run just before Thanksgiving, so the prizes were a turkey, a ham, and a chicken.

Table tennis was played year round and in the fourth period with Roger Rhodes taking second. The girls also had a table tennis tournament with Barbara Fischer on top and Helen Shaver taking second. In the fifth period tournament Jim Sandstrom held top honors with Bob Harper in second. Cheryl Werblo was first and Carol White came in second in the girls' tourney.

The chess tournament was played by students and faculty alike. In the fourth period Craig Collins came in first with Gary Nanz coming in a close second. A faculty member, Joseph Heuer, took top honors in the fifth period with David Gruenhagen taking second best.

In the fourth period championship checker games there was a tie for first place between

In the basketball tournament the faculty of the fourth period and the Sharp and 3 Flats maintained first place and the Brewers and Lamphiers Lads took second in individual seasons. In the fourth period tournament the faculty was first and the Fluffs were second; while the Lucky 7 were first with the Funks' Five second in the fifth period tournament. A number of the students performed at a gym program in which they exhibited the newly bought gym apparatus. C.P.H.S. bought five pieces of equipment, a trampoline, parallel bars, suspending rings, sidehorse, and horizontal bars.

The money that was taken in from the gym show $100 went toward the purchase of another trampoline which will be used in the boys' and girls' physical education classes. Next year golf, marbles, and tennis will be added to the intramural program.

Bullpups compete in 3 sports:

Escaping the block of a C.P. opponent, the ball drops to the waiting arms of a jr. high player.

Bullpup roundballers dribbled to a 9-7-0 above average season.

Coach Rawling's Bullpups were nosed out of their first game against Taft 28-25, but laid it on when they downed Chesterton 39-34. The Bullpups then ran into tough opposition as East Gary held the roundballers to 29 points while they racked up 37 points to win. At Hobart, Crown Point walked off the floor with a 33-21 victory.

Junior Highers then walked all over St. Mary's 34-20. Valpo and Merrillville met and swamped Crown Point 44-38 and 36-30, C. P. roundballers then met St. Mary's in a rematch and stomped them 30-16, while nosing out Taft. The Bullpups' next two games ended in their favor as they downed Hobart and River Forest. East Gary, back for the second time with revenge in their hearts, outdribbled the Bullpups to win 41-39 in a close contest. Calumet and River Forest were next on the Bullpup agenda. Both games were easy wins for C. P.

Just when the Bullpups regained their winning streak, Calumet and Portage overpowered that to close the season with two more losses. The Bullpups had a helterskelter season, alternating wins with losses and never putting together a solid victory streak.

The seventh grade roundballers succumbed to an unsuccessful 5-8-0 season record.

Junior high football turned in an outstanding record of 5-1-0 for their season.

Junior gridmen shut out River Forest, Portage, Lew Wallace, and Griffith in respective score of 47-0, 41-0, 27-0, 27-0. They then dropped a heart breaker to Merrillville 19-13. Calumet fell to the hands of the Bullpups 26-6, closing a highly successful season.

Junior high track turned in a perfect dual meet record 2-0-0 by defeating Chesterton 81-45 and River Forest 91½-33½. In the C. P. Invitational, held at Hobart, the junior runners jogged off the track with third in field of six reams.

think what a year can bring

IN ACTIVITIES

Enjoyment, knowledge, and understanding are the rewards offered to all participants of the various extra-curricular activities at Crown Point High School. Within the past few years the scope of these activities has broadened, and now a greater percentage of C.P.H.S. students than ever before are finding themselves in the midst of constant activity.

Whether one favors tilling the soil, playing a blaring trumpet in a band, receiving the rewarding pleasures of teaching a child how to read, creating an image on a canvas with a bit of paint, or concentrating over a game of chess, he will discover that almost every field is covered at C.P.H.S.

Perhaps the most important benefit received from a year of sincere club activity is the students' growth in the art of working with other people.

Christmas decorations

An outstanding achievement of the Student Council this year was the presentation of two $200 scholarships to a senior girl and boy. Qualifications required that the students enroll in a two-year vocational institution such as a beautician or business school. Winners were selected on the basis of citizenship, scholastic merit, and the need for financial assistance by a committee consisting of Mr. Gilbert Weldy, Mrs. Helen Palmer, Mr. Clyde Zeek, and Student Council sponsor, Mr. Warren Garner,

At Christmas time the Student Council collaborated with the Art Club and made a reproduction of the nativity scene. The statues of paper-mache were displayed in the northwest corner of Bulldog Memorial Field. For their efforts they received a five-dollar award from the Crown Point Chamber of Commerce. Besides decorations outside the building, the halls of the school were also gaily decorated by the Council and two Christmas trees were put up. In the fall, the four Student Council officers, Dennis Keesey, president, Glenn Kohlmeyer, vice-president, Lynn Struebig, secretary, and Dave Shaver, treasurer, along with representa-

There they went to discussion groups to talk over some of the duties and problems of a student council.

Revising the high school handbook, given to all incoming students, was one of the big jobs of the 1959-60 council. Each club sponsor was asked what new things they would like written about their particular club so as to get the most recent information into the book. The Rotary Club of Crown Point made a decision to sponsor an exchange student next year and asked the Council to help them locate a home for whomever they may bring over to this country.

After the annual regional achievement tests were held at Crown Point, the Student Council sponsored all C.P. winners to the state tests at Indiana University.

Meetings were held every other week to decide on such things as the amount of money to give to the intramural fund. After each of these meetings Lynn Struebig wrote up the minutes and mimeographed them so each teacher would receive a copy. They were also put on the bulletin board in the main hall and a monthly report was put in the school paper.

The Safe Driving Committee was also an important part of the Student Council. It consisted of ten seniors and one junior who made decisions about what should be done with students who violate the Safe Driving Code.

Boosters build

Rain or shine the Booster Club cheered for the mighty Red and White. For the first time during basketball season, boosters backed the "Hub Five" in the spanking new gymnasium.

As in past years season tickets were sold for all home basketball and football games, enabling spirited C.P.H.S.'ers to have reserved seats in the Bulldog booster block. They cheered, howled, and shouted, "Come on, team, let's win tonight!" in their red and white capes, which were supplied by the Booster Club for the third year.

Decked out in red carnation corsages with white ribbons, the two-toned capes, and white gloves, the girls cheered with the Lettermen at the sectional tourneys at East Chicago Washington, where their enthusiasm reached its highest peak.

Posters made by the Booster Club appeared all over the school during the different athletic seasons to help give the teams a push to victory. Homecoming preparations began almost as soon as school started, since these festivities touched off the city's 125th anniversary celebration. A huge, crackling bonfire was built in the baseball field west of the school the night before the big game. Bulldog fans whipped up enthusiasm for the following night's activities, during which Crown Point beat Merrillville. After singing the school song, all clasped hands and formed a long slinky snake, which weaved in and out around Crown Point's "square." This year's float was donated by the 125th Celebration Committee. The six Homecoming lovelies rode on this float to the football field where they were escorted to the coronation by Mr. Football candidates. Boosters planned the parade, made posters, and crowned Dean Cox and Sandy Rippy as royalty.

Bulldog spirit

This year two seniors and two juniors filled the officers' positions. Margie Reis, president, and Carol Tullis, secretary, were the seniors; while Virginia Foster, treasurer, and Denny Costin, vice-president, were the juniors.

"George" the Bulldog went to the new art department's salon to undergo a "fashion" change after a rough, rainy football season. There he received a shiny coat of gray, new ferociouslooking red eyes, and a new wooden tooth. Then George made his first appearance at a basketball game; and just before the sectional basketball tourneys he was all dolled up in his finest attire to boost the Bulldog spirit.

Booster officers M. Reis, V. Foster, C. Tullis, and D. Costin back the Bulldogs with posters.

Smiling from their places of honor on the Homecoming float are Mary Glassford and Virginia Foster. Other candidates were Amanda Haley, Barb Sergent, and Sandy Rippy.

Honoring "George" the Bulldog, varsity cheerleaders lead the crowd in the Bulldog chant.

Cheers lead

Go! Fight! Win! are the repeated shouts that echo in the ears of every Crown Point Bulldog fan as he anticipates the outcome of an exicting game. The highly skilled Crown Point cheer-leaders increase the excitement by executing several original cheers.

Their combined effort to support the team kept the reserve and varsity cheerleaders busy during the year. They led every pep session and also teamed up with the Booster Club in the big homecoming celebrations.

The opportunity of attending Smith-Walbridge summer cheerleading camp was given to five of the cheerleaders last year. These five girls were Virginia Foster, Diana Lundgren, Georgann Polen, Cindy Barnett, and Kathy Esser. While enjoying the five fun-filled days at the Syracuse, Indiana camp, the yell leaders racked up four superior ratings and one excellent. They also merited a superior in the finals. The red and white clad cheerleaders supporting the varsity teams were seniors Sandy Doty and Elaine Cohoon and sophomores Georgann Polen and Diana Lundgren.

The Crown Point Sunshine Society was the host for 2,500 girls and 200 sponsors at the annual State Sunshine Convention on Saturday, April 2, 1960. Sunshiners living in southern Indiana had come the night before and were welcomed, by the courtesy of the C.P.H.S. Band, to attend the weekly Friday night dance free of charge.

At 9:00 A.M. the convention got under way with the regular business meeting where the year's activities were summarized and discussed A luncheon was served by special caterers, and favors were given to everyone. Most important on the agenda for the afternoon was the formal installation of the new state officers. Following the tradition of electing the state president from the school that holds the state convention, a C.P.H.S. Sunshiner was installed as state president for 1960-1961. Then came the announcement of the winners of Sunshine nurse's scholarships. Last year's president Debby Ruby was the first to win such a scholarship from our district for many years. Entertainment such as group singing, a guest speaker, and local talent concluded the day's events.

Sunshine meetings were held regularly every other Wednesday. This year C.P.H.S. Sun-shiner's sold 948 cans of candy and furnished six needy families with Thanksgiving dinners. Fun and work were combined in the annual joint Sunshine-Hi-Y clothing drive, which resulted with a new record of eighty bags of clothing. This isn't all of the good will that Sunshine spreads, for once again the society donated two hundred dollars to the Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis.

As for Sunshine social activities, the annual Sunshine-Hi-Y Christmas Formal proved the outstanding high point. The Sunshine year ended with the customary May Breakfast.

Packing Thanksgiving baskets with boxes, cans, and bags of food for families in the area are Sandy Niemeyer, Judy Bice, Arlene Nagy, Phyllis Noak, and Carla Palmer.

The aim of the Sunray Society is to be creative and helpful to others. The junior high girls did this by attending meetings every two weeks, decorating a display window in the main hall at intervals during the year, and serving at the Holly Hop, Froshmore Hop, and Sunshine May Breakfast. In this way they earned points.

At their meetings under the direction of Mrs. Ladd, skits and plans for coming events were discussed. Lea Ann Newlin, president, Linda Horn, vice-president, and Sue Fatch, secretarytreasurer, were busy during the year totaling points, organizing various activities, and planning pantomimes, which are new to meetings this year.

Hi-Y crowns two Sweethearts

For the first time in Hi-Y history, two sweethearts were chosen. Because of an unbreakable tie Sue Davis and Lynn Struebig both received the honor of Hi-Y Sweetheart.

Combining with the Sunshine Society for their annual clothing drive, the clubs worked together and filled a record of 80 bags of clothing for needy families.

Helping with the Peanuts for Polio drive was another project the club undertook. The boys were given points for each hour they worked. Parking cars at games also gave the boys points. April 1-2 the Sunshine Society held their state convention in Crown Point. The Hi-Y helped their sister organization to plan the activities and they also served as guides for the 2000 girls.

Because "all work and no play can make Jack a dull boy" the club sponsored such activities as a swimming party at the Y.M.C.A. in Gary and also a havride. Hi-Y officers are L. Howard, D. Balogh, M. Watson, J. Denney, R. Kaiser, and B. Wilcox.

National Honor Society began the year's activities with a potluck and election of officers at the home of sponsor Miss Alice Laurerbur. Officers elected were Bill Bishop, president; Judy Gaill Wood, vice-president; George Adams, recording secretary; Carol Tullis and Sharon Schlemmer, corresponding secretaries; and Beth Mueller, treasurer.

Members sold the traditional society note cards, which this year pictured a sketch of the new addition. At Christmas, Honor Society gave a party for past members complete with Santa. Len Langeland, '57 grad, spoke on a world-wide youth festival he attended in Vienna, Austria. The club visited the newly opened Indiana University Center in Gary and Valparaiso University, touring the campuses and attending classes.

Programs given for honor roll achievers included a panel discussion by C.P.'s foreign students, a report on the World Affairs Conference, and a talk by a Japanese exchange student. Newly elected members were initiated on April 7, 1960. Arranging the National Honor Society notecards display are seniors Kathy Seegers and Celia Josh.

Karen and Sharon Schlemmer put up posters throughout the school in commemoration of National Education Week.

will be doing daily it they become teachers. As in past years, various teachers explained at the monthly meetings the duties, responsibilities, and rewards of the teaching profession. Some of the areas discussed were math, business, and English. F.T.A. members traveled to two Round-ups, which provided means for the members to better acquaint themselves with the teaching profession. It was decided to present a scholarship for teaching to one of the club's seniors. Another first was the receiving of points for going to meetings and helping teachers grade papers.

Karen Schlemmer was president, with Barbara Rettig, vice-president, Sharon Schlemmer, treasurer, and Arlene Nagy, sceretary. Club sponsors were Harry Allison, Al Gruber, and Anita Sark. Mr. Gruber and Mrs. Sark were new sponsors. All girls interested in the nursing profession attended monthly F.N.A. meetings to become acquainted with nursing and any related field. In the spring future nurses helped register grade school children at Southward and Timothy Ball grade schools with the help of Mrs. Rita Mc-Fadden, sponsor.

Mrs. Alice Hartwich, director of Lake County Nurses, was the noted speaker, who told the girls about the health tests given at C.P.H.S. and the statistics of the tests.

One of the most important gains of the club this year was a new separation screen. During the year, the nurses club visited Saint Margaret's Hospital in Hammond, and toured the school of nursing, while their immediate plans for the future are: visiting Holy Cross Central in South Bend, Methodist and Mercy in Gary, and the Bryant Nursing Home in Crown Point. Roxy Hopkins, president, Margaret Reis, vice-president, Carron Dille, secretary, and Becky Denney, treasurer, were kept busy this year.

To help the boys gain a more complete understanding of farming methods the club went on many field trips and even did some judging of vegetables. At the district contest they were awarded the travelers' plaque.

Acting club leaders were Dennis Noak, president, Bill Deutsch, vice-president, Jim Deutsch, secretary, Dennis Nagle, treasurer, Bill Guske, recorder, and Harvey Gibbs, sentinel.

The biggest project of the year for the machinists is sponsoring the annual Inter-class Tourney. The champions this year were the Lettermen and the Junior Girls. With the profits received the boys plan to buy new equipment for the machine shoo.

Choral Festival and leaf

"Growing bigger and better" seems to have become the byword of the A Cappella choir this past year.

Singing in the 125th celebration with other city choirs started the year rolling for the A Cappella. In Keeping with the joyous Christmas spirit the band and choir combined efforts to present a program which was their gift to the community. Three annual school convocations —Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter—and baccalureate completed the well-rounded list of major activities that the choir members participated in throughout the year.

The stage production of "The King and I" highlighted a year of hard work and fun. For two nights, May 1-2, the complete A Cappella participated in the musical and after the second performance everyone enjoyed a canoeing party at the home of Judy Baacke. Not to be surpassed this year, A Cappella members anticipated another great production in the spring. On March 11, a regional music festival was held at Griffith High School. Six schools participated and Dr. H. Veld, the well-known conductor from Augustana Music School, led the group singing and then each school sang three numbers alone.

Choral officers are Barb Sergent, Glyn Jewart, Barb Bombich, Pat Needham, and Sandy Douglas.

One of their money-making projects was a citywide leaf rake held in the mid-autumn. After the hard work, members climbed into a truck heaped with leaves and headed for a giant bonfire and wienie roast. The proceeds from these activities helped to pay for improvements for the choral department, such as new robes, the operetta, and well-deserved parties. A joint A Cappella-Band roller skating party at Oak Ridge Roller Rink was one of these parties. Participating again in the district piano and vocal solo and ensemble contest, held at Lew Wallace School in Gary, Crown Point soloists and ensembles merited thirteen superior ratings and twenty-five excellents. Those earning first places obtained the right to attend the state contest held at Butler University in Indianapolis, where five entries got firsts.

Filling the duties of officers were seniors Pat

By enjoying the new facilities this year, the Crown Point students taking part in choral activities increased their knowledge of music. Three new ensemble rooms plus several individual practice rooms, a music library, choral office, and a recording and broadcasting studio were a few of many changes that took place in the construction during the past year. The choral classroom in the octagon-shaped music wing was also a new addition, and several new pianos were bought for the music students. Risers that enable the choir to be seated during a performance were bought to eliminate wasted time.

contests, candy

The Crown Point High School Band was rated quite highly in the many contents in which it entered. Among such contests was the district instrumental solo and ensemble contest at Portage. From there, those who qualified represented Crown Point High in state competition.

At home the band presented its third annual pop concert in the fall. Later the band and A Capella Choir jointly sponsored a Christmas concert. A spring concert was also on the agenda. Band members marched in the Memorial Day parade and revealed their talents in the Crown Point 125th Anniversary parade.

At the football games the C.P.H.S. band displayed fancy footwork and a variety of songs at the halftimes to home-towners and visiting fans. During the basketball season a special pep band was organized for the sole purpose of boosting the basketball team.

A band student's daily routine might have been filled with the playing off of challenges for a coming contest, practicing with colleagues for a coming contest, practicing the scales, or selling candy and band booster stickers, while sporting a C.P.H.S. band jacket, on which was proudly sewn a music letter.

"Curtain Going Up," written by Gregory Johnson was the title of the junior class play. It was directed by Mrs. Norma Schaeffer with the assistance of student director Steve Tuhy.

The story tells of a junior class and all the problems they encounter because of dissension between two of the actresses.

Lorry Fuller portrayed by Nancy Vieweg and Nancy Leveridge portrayed by Sandy Rippy are the two girls who can't get along. Because Lorry gets the lead in the play, Nancy, who feels she is a better actress, is very embittered and causes trouble.

Carron Dille plays the new teacher who has the honor of directing the play. Other important characters are portrayed by Dan Root, Tom Henderlong, Jerry Smith, Dave Shaver, and Denny Henderlong.

"Who's scared of a mouse?" Ron Kaiser asks Tom Henderlong as Pat Needham steps into the fight.

Guilty or not guilty? The jury who had to decide the verdict at the end of the production was selected from the members of the audience.

The courtroom drama, "The Night of January 16" written by Ayn Rand and directed by Mrs. Norma Schaeffer, is based on an actual murder trial.

District Attorney Elint (Dave Shaver) and the Defense Attorney (Bill Wright) questioned their witnesses for or against the suspected murderess, Karen Andre (Amanda Haley) while Judge Heath (Jim Denney) presided. Dr. Kirkland (Mike Connelly) said that Faulkner, the victim, had been shot before falling from the porch of Karen Andre's penthouse. A suicide note, supposedly written by the deceased Mr. Faulkner, was said to be a forgery.

On both nights the play was presented, the jury returned with a verdict of not guilty.

"I'm a terpsichorean," testifies Sue Davis, chorus girl, to Bill Wright, defense attorney.

One-act play, dramatists project

Rehearsing for a one act play "The Neighbors" are Janet Kaiser, Barbara Sickles, and Gary Becker.

During the year the Drama Club presented the one-act play "The Neighbors." Meetings were held every other week and programs were given at each of these meetings.

In February the new Thespian members were announced and at an afternoon meeting six people were initiated—Stephen Jacoby, Amanda Haley, Starr Geise, Sharon Cantrell, Dave Shaver, and Margie Reis. Old members were also present to welcome the new members into the organization. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Norma Schaeffer who also directed the senior class play. Many other things besides acting techniques were learned at the meetings. The members were taught such things as how to apply makeup and how to work on the technical phases of a production.

Officers of the club are Starr Geise, president, Margie Reis, vice-president, Sandy Douglas, secretary, and Sue Brannock, treasurer.

Have you ever been puzzled as to how to build a robot, or how to operate and understand an oscilloscope, a machine which pictures sound? America's future scientists or followers of science aren't. They probably belong to the Science Club, organized for C.P.H.S. students who are interested in any of the many facets of science. At the bi-monthly meetings, experiments of every size and shape were executed. Some were completed without a flaw, others not so flawlessly. Also during these meetings, the Science Fair was planned. It is the annual job of the Science Club to sponsor this show. Leonard Saylor is the club sponsor.

Hold it! Click. This phrase signifies that someone, probably a Camera Club member, is recording an incident in life, never again to be seen, except in the finished picture. At the bimonthly meetings, Crown Point High School shutterbugs concerned themselves with the art of photography, which includes mastering the basic fundamentals of owning and operating a camera. Members also learned to develop the pictures they took. This was done with the assistance of equipment in the biology labs, which serves the purpose of their darkrooms. The Camera Club strives to teach its members to always approach a subject with new interest and ideas. Joseph Heuer is club sponsor.

With the expansion of our school and its enrollment, Latin Club has grown from two to three classes.

Latin Club meetings were held every other Friday during class. Some of the programs for meetings were strip films on ancient Roman history and special reports on Roman life. One class held a cross-word puzzle contest. The puzzle was in Latin and the winners were given loving cups.

Instead of the traditional Museum of Natural History field trip, this year's Latin Club decided to see "Ben Hur" in Chicago.

At the annual Latin Club Banquet toga-adorned members enjoyed a Roman style dinner, and two outstanding seniors were announced. They were Stephen Jacoby and Judy Gail Wood.

Creager, Clambering over books and chairs to reach the prizes of the Mexican pinata was the climax of a fun-filled Christmas party for members of the Modern Language Club. Spanish and French pastries were devoured while members attempted to shave balloons.

Movies, records, slides, and speakers added to the enjoyment and knowledge of the French and Spanish students the entire year.

By planning a Spanish and French meal the students learned many of the customs of these countries. Many moans and groans were heard after eating, but although many disliked the food they enjoyed the new experience.

Among these many projects and programs the Modern Language Club sponsored a Friday night dance. Proceeds from such activities provided the club with funds to improve the Spanish and French classes by purchasing tapes, slides, and magazines. Other improvements included a new slide projector and several colorful maps.

G.A.A. members had a very busy program this year. With the new facilities, they enjoyed various new activities. Some of those activities were the noon hour intramurals such as basketball and volleyball. Tumbling, gymnastics, softball, bowling, golf, track and field rounded out the recreational activities.

On May 7th, G.A.A. sponsored a county-wide play-day to which they invited other G.A.A. members. A play-day is one of the best means to promote good sportsmanship and fellowship. Some of the junior and senior members attended a sports clinic at Valparaiso University on February 20, 1960.

The annual carnival was affiliated with the physical education program which exhibited some of the activities.

In addition, G.A.A. had the usual social functions such as a formal initiation, the Spring

Banquet in honor of the senior members, and an awards night.

The officers purchased white blazers with emblems depicting their particular office. The G.A.A. officers for the '59-'60 school year were: Florette Letz, president, Sandy Yarnell, vice-president, Sallyann Polivka, recording secretary, Sue Liss, corresponding secretary, Sandy Rippy, treasurer, and Jill Polomck, sporthead.

The most effective money making project of the G.A.A. this year was the selling of red and white sweatshirts. The sweatshirts had a white bulldog outline, with "Crown Point Bulldogs" in white lettering.

Golf, one of the new sports added to the G.A.A. program, was popular with many girls in the spring last year.

Sweatshirts supplement funds

Track and field took place on Bulldog Memorial Field, and was another favorite sport of the G.A.A. program. Distance running, broad jumping, and relays were some of the events offered in this activity.

The new intramural program made it possible for basketball and volleyball enthusiasts to participate frequently. Every Tuesday and Friday these sports plus tumbling were offered in the new gym.

Since the carnival and physical education show were combined this year, many different acts were presented. The trampoline, the horse, the parallel bars, and a basketball game provided new entertainment, while modern dance routines, tumbling, and gymnastics filled out the regular schedule.

One of the final activities of the year is choosing the outstanding senior G.A.A. member at the annual awards banquet. This award is presented annually.

Prospective GAA'er Sharon Murray is welcomed into the club by Florette Letz, president.

"I think this size should be correct," Marjorie Hutton tells Judy Petrunich and Judy Fabisiak as they purchase a Crown Point sweatshirt sold by G.A.A. members.

Letters won in seven sports

Lettermen Club officers are J. Carter, D. Cox, D. Schaeffer, sponsor, R. Schmidt, R. Kaiser.

Unlike most school organizations, the Lettermen's Club is an honor club, limited to those boys who participate in sports ranging from wrestling and cross country to the popular basketball and football. Boys must pass a test on the constitution before becoming a member. To stay in athletics and the club, they must maintain good grades. This past year was filled with many activities. In the fall, they had a havride. They also had three dances, one of which was a dance to celebrate Thanksgiving. To add to their club treasury, the boys sold programs at the football games and cokes at the basketball games. The money from these activities went toward the buying of the familiar red "Letter" sweaters, on which the boys put their major and minor awards. They must earn these by meeting certain interscholastic competitive requirements. Dean Cox was the president, Ray Schmidt, vice-president, Ron Kaiser, secretary, and Ioe Carter, treasurer.

Helping to increase the Lettermen's Club treasury, which buys sweaters for the boys, Ray Schmidt and John Sherwood sell programs to the football spectators at a home game.

Tick, tick, tick went the hands on the clock in the Inklings room on Wednesday afternoons and evenings. The paper, rolling towards the deadline like a snowball rolling down a steep hill, was being formed by scurrying reporters.

To boost subscription the circulation staff sponsored a contest to name the paper's mascot. The new mascot, Ink-a-blot, who can see and hear all things, appeared a number of times during the year to praise or tattle on the students. Getting beats, polls, "sniffs," and stories for the paper were just some of the various jobs of the journalism class and staff.

The class of '60 made firsts by having the staff run by co-editors, who were Bonnie Baldwin and Peggy Oram, and by issuing the "flyer" a two-page newspaper, for the first time. Also new to the Inklings was advisor Philip Barlowe. Journalism students who worked closely with the staff during the year were given first-hand experience by taking charge of issues as co-editors. The students, working in pairs, gave out assignments and poll questions, made the layouts of the paper, and worte editorials.

Editors Linda Pugh, Peggy Oram, and Bonnie Baldwin make page layouts for the Friday paper.

"Gosh, how am I ever going to finish this copy? Has anyone seen the dummy? Oh, I can't think with all this commotion. Here is another picture that won't fit! Oh, my pencil just broke!" Working towards a bigger and better yearbook. Excalibur staff members attended many training sessions where they became acquainted with the vearbook and found their assignments. Special spring sessions were for students who wished to join one of the staffs. Later a joint banquet was given in honor of those belonging to the Excalibur and Inklings' staffs. Those belonging to the business side of the staff discovered both work and pleasure in selling Excaliburs and arranging ads. In the meantime the editorial staff fashioned the book by laying out the pages, cropping the pictures, and writing the copy. The dummy, a duplication of the actual yearbook, was planned and laid out in the workshops of the Indiana High School Journalism Institute at I.U. As the days, weeks, and months passed, the book was slowly filled with copy and pictures, until, on May 27, the Excalibur was distributed at the Autograph Dance.

IN PERSONALITIES

As C. P. H. S. doors swung open to start this funfilled year, 1,381 students from Winfield, Center and Hanover Townships, in addition to the Crown Point residents, swarmed into the expanded C. P. H. S. Many grew weary trying to locate their lockers and classrooms in the appalling vastness of the new addition. After the situation was appraised, the students found unique ways to add personal touches to classrooms, halls, and lockers-where mice and mirrors gathered. At the buzzing of bells, the halls were instantly flooded with chattering students, for the most part unaware of the personal changes the year was bringing. Besides changing in physical appearance, the students developed new personalities. Slowly they became more confident of their abilities, and fragment by fragment, they formed their own working philosophies of life.

Checking attendance, Dean of Students Cornelia Wood and Warren Garner smile over a "note from mother."

With the completion of the new addition, added problems and responsibilities were piled on the shoulders of the administration of C. P. H. S. Gilbert Weldy, in his fourth year as principal, kept the varied educational wheels of the school spinning effectively with the specialized help of Warren Garner, assistant principal and dean of boys, and Mrs. Cornelia Wood, dean of girls.

Kenneth Knight, Paul Rapp, and Carroll Holley composed the school board, representing the public, and Superintendent of Schools Robert Brannock carried out its policies.

For the third year the administrative council —Mr. Weldy, Mr. Garner, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Helen Palmer, Carl Carnahan, Mrs. Margaret Mracek, and Mrs. Diane Gustafson—helped form answers to student council issues.

New addition

Robert Brannock, Superintendent of Schools, tackles his paper work with the help of his secretary, Mrs. Ruth O'Neil, in his Solon Robinson School office.

With busy appointment-filled days Principal Gilbert G. Weldy steers C. P. H. S. on its educational course.

Piles of program cards and assorted tests find their way to Guidance Director Mrs. Helen Palmer's desk.

New headaches

School board members Paul Rapp, Kenneth Knight, Carroll Holley, and Robert Brannock put their heads together to concentrate on school issues.

School secretaries Miss Ella Blackstone and Mrs. Marie Olson greet visitors to the main office.

252 Seniors gain maturity

On September 4, 1956, 326 wide-eyed students entered Crown Point High School. They were individuals. Although their lives differed greatly, each was somewhat frightened by what lay ahead. Despite differences, it was not long before friendships were formed, studies began to take spare moments, and the spirit of C. P. H. S. became a part of each young freshman. Suddenly, these "wide-eyed students" were no longer individuals; they had become the Class of 1960.

During our beginning year we had our first taste of high school life, as the world watched Sputnik go into orbit. We tackled Latin and algebra, and became members of school organizations. We ended our freshman year no longer frightened, but eager to advance.

Several firsts were added during our second year. The Student Council inaugurated the Safe Driving Code. A formal dance for underclassmen, the Froshmore Hop, was held for the first time. As juniors, we found many new experiences still faced us. We chose teal blue and white for our class sweaters. For the first time in 35 years our basketball team reached the finals in the sectionals. Curtain Going Up was the name of our first class play. Highlighting the year was our first prom, "La Tertulia Festiva." Crown Point celebrated her 125th anniversary as we began our last year of high school. We once more experienced the "lost" feeling, with a new $900,000 addition. Our cross-country team had its "best ever" season, going undefeated in dual meets. The Night of January 16th, our second class play, and the prom put the finishing touches on our last year.

On June 2, 1960, 252 seniors will graduate from Crown Point High School. We will no longer be the Class of 1960, but, once more, individuals. Through four years' experience at C. P. H. S., we will be ready to take our place in society.

Juniors

Sharyn Fagen, junior class secretary, proudly models her dark brown on heather brown '61 sweater for the other junior officers: Tom Tayler, vice president; Kent Noyes, president; and Jan Wille, treasurer. The 61'ers ordered their sweaters early and were able to wear them to opening school events. The chief problem for the year was raising enough funds to cover expenses for the Junior-Senior Prom. Money-making projects included the football concession stand, the junior class's Friday night dance, and the class play.

Sophomores

After finally being elevated above the lowly ranks of "greenie" frosh, the sophs' first new experience was the long-awaited choosing of their class rings. Class officers examining the various styles of ring samples are: Sallyann Polivka, secretary; Tom Kish, vice president; Jack Barber, president; and Sue Ellen Liss, treasurer. The sophomores last fling as underclassmen was the third annual Excalibur-sponsored Froshmore Hop, which ended the second year of their career at Crown Point High School.

Freshmen

For the eighteenth time in the history of the present C. P. H. S. campus, a new set of freshmen arrived to start their high school career. They again needed maps to direct them through the maze of halls in the new addition, but they had already become acquainted with the older section at an orientation day one week before the beginning of school. Looking over the enrollment list of their new class are the class officers Bob Matthews, vice-president; Susan Jacoby, secretary; Sam Froedge, president; and Judy Jackson, treasurer.

IN BUSINESS

The courthouse, Lake County's traditional landmark, stands in the heart of Crown Point while the city spreads itself outward. To the north the new business district is growing, and to the south new subdivisions and schools stretch the boundaries. The city is expanding internally, too. Old houses being remodeled, torn down, or shifted to empty lots, altered store fronts soaking up new coats of paint, and interiors being revamped to show merchandise in the best possible way added their parts to the changing Crown Point scene. Keeping up to date with the teen's fashions and fads as well as items appealing to other sets, merchants met the younger and the older generations warmly. They managed to provide the community with that mixture of necessities and luxuries which goes to form a well-balanced picture.

what's their future

The young people you see in these pictures are all on their way to successful careers in one of America's basic industries... steel. They decided (as we hope you will decide) to let Inland Steel Company help them plan their future.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades to become journeyman machinists, carpenters or electricians ... some are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in the open hearth shops, the cold rolling mills or the galvanizing lines. Still others are working in laboratories building a sound foundation for a future in steel research.

Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs, or they can continue their formal education by registering for evening courses offered by local Purdue and Indiana University Extension Centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you in steel . . . with the midwest's own steel company . . . INLAND STEEL.
